Spring Meeting

On Wednesday, 30 May, we will gather in the conference room at Kaiser Bellflower, beginning at 6:45pm. This meeting is the first of our quarterly meetings as we announced in February. Members of all groups are welcome to attend.

At this meeting, those members who attended the American Society of Clinical Oncology conference earlier this month will report on what was presented at the conference.

This month's YANA Notes will be available online at: <http://www.yana.org/200005n.htm> beginning Friday, 1 June (we will have to add a part, which was not previously typed in, to the electronic version of the notes after the meeting). This edition of YANA Notes will contain a copy of the report presented at the meeting. If you want a paper copy mailed to you, please let Claudia know.

Driving Instructions to Kaiser

Future Meetings

The next meeting will be during the first week of August and it will be in the Westchester area of Los Angeles county (near LAX). The topic for that meeting is still being finalized, but we expect to have an oncologist as our speaker.

We are looking for a location for the fall meeting to be held in September in Orange county. If you'd be willing to be the hostess, please contact Virginia.

Everybody's Welcome

Everyone is welcome to attend the City of Hope's Cancer Survivors' Day on Sunday, 3 June. If you need driving instructions to the City of Hope, please contact Joan or Virginia.

Upcoming Special Events

We need volunteers to sit at our table on Sunday, 3 June, at the City of Hope Cancer Survivors' Day and on Saturday, 9 June, at the International Myeloma Foundation educational conference in Sherman Oaks.

FYI - Myeloma is condition of the bone marrow which is often treated with high dose chemotherapy and bone marrow transplant.

Please contact Joan or Virginia if you can volunteer for either event.

The Future of You Are Not Alone

As we announced in February, we had a planning meeting for You Are Not Alone on 31 January at the City of Hope. As a result of that meeting, we made some changes to the way we operate in order to serve both new and present members. The details are contained in February's YANA Notes which can be found at:

<http://www.yana.org/200102n.htm>

RFMRC Insights into Cancer Lecture

June's Rhonda Fleming Mann Resource Center Insights into Cancer Lecture will be on Tuesday, 5 June, at the RPB Auditorium in the Jules Stein Eye Institute at UCLA beginning at 7pm. The speaker is Dr. Ronald Moy, whose topic will be Sun Damage and Skin Cancer: Prevention, Diagnosis, and Treatment.

July's lecture will be on Tuesday, 10 July, at the same time and place. The speaker will be Christine Clifford speaking on Laughter: A New Twist to the Old Illness of Cancer!

As usual, parking will be available in the parking lot at Leconte and Westwood for $6.

The Group Room

The Group Room is broadcast each Sunday over the Internet from 1pm to 3pm Pacific Time. If you want to listen, go to:

<http://www.vitaloptions.org>

to connect to the broadcast. We will let you know when The Group Room has a new Los Angeles broadcast location.
